

Parryware launches Touchless Faucets and Anti-Microbial product ranges to keep bathroom spaces safe and hygienic

■ Parryware, India's contemporary bathroom solutions brand has announced the launch of Verve Anti -Microbial Range of Water Closets and Touchless Faucets product ranges, designed to minimize the growth of micro organisms or bacteria on product surface and enhance safety in bathroom spaces. The new range of Parryware products are layered with a special additive of Nano Silver ion glaze to reduce the bacteria, virus growth and minimize germ and infection spread. Amid the Covid-19 pandemic, safety and personal hygiene have become the upmost priority for customers and the Anti-Microbial products range will help customers to keep their bathroom space safe and hygiene.

The newly introduced Parryware's of WCs inhibits potential spread the principle of anti-microbial introduced by Parryware, the glaze making bathrooms a safe common concern around hygiene advanced technology sensor taps easy to install, energy efficient battery that can be mounted on in six contemporary and elegant its touch-free sensor technology.

Verve Anti-microbial collection of germs and bacteria. Built on seating, a concept first range is coated with anti-germ and hygienic space. Further addressing a in times of pandemic, Parryware touchless are built in with auto open close feature, and offers cost-effectiveness as it runs on any existing basin. These sensor taps come designs created to limit hand contact with

Commenting on the launch of new product range, KE Ranganathan, Managing Director, Roca Parryware, said, "At Parryware, we strive to offer innovative quality products that are safe, hygienic and gives a stress-free experience to the consumer. With our innovative and practical products like zero-contact sensor taps and anti-microbial verve collection, we prioritize safety by eliminating the risk of surface contact and therefore reducing the spread of viruses. We are confident that this product collection will be one of the defining solutions for safety and hygiene requirements in bathroom spaces and will represent a continued evolution of the company's focus on safe and hygienic bathroom spaces."
